

3.7.16 article questions

1. The author visited several human trafficking sites around the U.S. What is ONE thing they all have in common?
2. Why does the organization, International Justice Mission (IJM) believe that human trafficking operations should be easy for the police and communities to identify?
3. According to the article's author, what do police officers think about women (foreign or otherwise) arrested for prostitution?
4. According to Andrea, why would kids be dressed in yellow and taken to Disneyland?
5. According to Andrea, what does it mean to be in the 'damage group'?
6. According to Kevin Bales of Free the Slaves, what is a physical tactic and mental tactic for breaking down the children's resistance?
7. On page 13, Rosario states why she thinks the demanded for younger and younger abducted women is becoming the standard. What is her guess?
8. What is the future for a typical trafficking victim in the U.S.?
9. On page 14, Andrea discusses why the victims do not feel comfortable going to the police or social workers. What is her reason?
10. Why don't victims return to their homes after they have been used for prostitution?