According to the eighth edition of the MLA Handbook, all citations follow a standard format. Omit the parts that do not apply to the source (for example, many sources do not have other contributors, version or number).

Author/creator. Title of source ("article," book, "poem"). Title of container (book, website), Other contributors (editor, illustrator), Version, Number,

Publisher, Publication date, Location (URL without http://, database title).

Accessed date (electronic sources only).

Your works cited page should (and what has not changed):

- Be organized alphabetically.
- Double-spaced and in same font type and size as rest of paper.
- Works Cited should appear centered at the top of the page.
- Your citations should be left-justified with a hanging indent of 0.5 inches
